KAREN FOLEY: On the 31st of July we have a Student Hub Live results and progression special. Come and join other OU students and our panel of experts in a live interactive discussion.

We'll cover making sense of your results and study intensity. And then we have a series of specific sessions that will suit your level of study.

We'll end the programme in the afternoon with a discussion about when things don't go to plan, and cover assessment banking and resits and resubmissions.

So how does it all work? The programme of events is on the website and we'll show you what is on and when. If you have a question you'd like answered, send us an email and we'll make sure we include it. You can talk to other students in the chat room during the event and ask our panellists questions that will be relayed through our hot desk.

If you can't be there for the whole event, just drop in when you can, and if you miss any of the live sessions, there will be a catch up service so you can watch later.

See the website for more information and to access the event, which is open to everyone. I hope we can make it on the 31st of July from 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM.
